

AFRL STEM SPROUTS

Since the founding of the Nation, science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) have been a source of inspirational discoveries and transformative technological advances, helping the United States develop the world's most competitive economy and preserving peace through strength. The pace of innovation is accelerating globally, and with it the competition for scientific and technical talent. Now more than ever the innovation capacity of the United States—and its prosperity and security—depends on an effective and inclusive STEM education ecosystem.

The vision of the AF STEM Program is to provide high-quality STEM education to students and to help the United States continue to be the global leader in STEM literacy, innovation, and employment. This vision will be achieved by pursuing three aspirational goals:

- Build Strong Foundations for STEM Literacy
- Increase Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in STEM
- Prepare the STEM Workforce for the Future

The Air Force Research Lab Information Directorate STEM Sprout program looks to connect with teachers in the Mohawk Valley and assist them with their STEM initiatives.
